- Intuitive hands-free use

The EXTRA 7" video terminal is the most complex product of the ELECTRA TOUCH LINE range of door systems, offering a wide variety of functions, in a simple, yet innovative and user-friendly format.

The design of the EXTRA terminals integrates state-of-the-art technology, which offers a new level of user-friendliness and an intuitive operation of its functions.

The premium appearance of the terminal is given by the use of glass as the dominating constructive element, as well as by the compact build, resulting in a slim product. Available in two color options, black and white, the EXTRA terminals are created in alignment with contemporary architecture, being easy to place and incorporate in numerous indoor environments.

Designed and executed in compliance with international standards, and made of environment-friendly materials, the EXTRA 7" terminals comply with the principles of a democratic design, combining and accessible price with a premium appearance, through the use of glass- an ecological material.

Surface mounting

The assembly solution for the EXTRA 7" video terminal is original and efficient, resulting in a product with a slim appearance, yet dust tight and easy to install. Through the perfectly layered conjunction of its constructive elements, respectively the resistant ABS case and the 3 mm chemically toughened glass, doubled on the inside by the printed circuit board of the same dimension, results a robust product, only 20 mm thick, which is very easily mounted on any surface.

As the saying goes, 'one image is worth more than a thousand words', therefore, the EXTRA 7" video terminal displays high definition images during the entire duration of the call, talk and monitoring. At the same time, the terminal provides excellent night vision at a distance of more than 20 m, even without adequate street lighting.

The touch keypad is very friendly and easy to use, both through its universal minimalistic symbols, as well as through the visual signalling during use. The interaction of the user with the terminal is minimal, as any function can be achieved with a single touch of the key.
